Product Description And Benefits:

Concentrated amino acids from high-quality sources. Recommended to overcome plant stress conditions such as low moisture, frost, high temperature, or drought. Encourages growth, increases cell wall thickness and stability. Enhances the efficacy of other fertilizers when mixed because it acts as a chelating agent. Encourages the opening of plant stomata, allowing the plant to quickly alleviate the negative effects of stress conditions. Improves pollen activity and sugar formation. Promotes growth by increasing the thickness and stability of the plant cell wall and enhances resistance against damages that can be caused by fungal and insect pests. Supports carbohydrate formation and respiration, boosts photosynthesis, and maximizes the availability of other foliar fertilizers. Recommended for foliar applications.
